LITTLE BY LITTLE.

One step and then another,
And the longest walk is ended;
One stitch and then another,
And the largest rent is mended;
One blow and then another,
And the highest wall is made;
One shake upon another,
And the snow is laid.

So the little soul-workers,
By their slow but constant motion,
Have built those pretty islands
In the distant dark-blue ocean;
And the noblest undertakings
Man's wisdom hath conceived,
By oft-repeated efforts
Have been patiently achieved.

Then don't look disheartened

Over the work you have to do,

And say that such a mighty task

You can never get through;

But just endeavor day by day

Another point to gain,

And soon the mountain which you feared

Will prove to be a plain.

"None was built in a day."

The ancient proverbs teach,

And Nature by her trees and flowers,

Teach the same lesson preaches.

Think not of fastidious

But of duties which are near,

And having once begun to work,

Resolve to persevere

Thoughts as They Occur on the Corners.

No. VII.

A Spartan who had been defeated at an election, went home rejoicing that there were nineteen better men in Spartans than he. In the early days of our government such patriotic incidents might have occurred with us, but it is not now much from a want of patriotism, as it is from a sensitive feeling of honor and self-respect, that prevents many of our wisest and best men from entering the political arena, which has become so much a slaughterhouse of private character and reputation.

"It mortals could thunder
As Great Jove thunders,
Heaven would never have quiet
For every pettling petty officer,
Would have thunder, thunder,
Nothing but thunder."—Shakespeare.

Had old Shakespeare been a contemporary of ours, he would have told us of some of our sensational orators.

It seems rather paradoxical that decency requires that ladies should wear their dresses so long that even the toes of their shoes are concealed—whilst girls and little misses, who should be nothing but blushing modesty itself, have to wear their dresses up to their knees.

Quarrelling and going in debt are quite similar. It is easy in each to put in, but frequently hard to get out. The debtor finds it very hard to pay out, and the man in a quarrel some times gets paid out with hard knocks.

Pure, refined wit and humor is easily defeated, or driven from the field, by loud horse laughs, and repeated shower baths from the seas pool of the low and vulgar.

Our language consists mainly of the following groups or classes of words: 1st, names of things; 2nd, actions; 3rd, quality; 4th, manner of action; and 5th, places or position. Why could not some man of plain, practical sense write a grammar, showing the government and relation of these classes of words toward each other, in a few simple rules that the child could learn, and remember, and not beaulys in doubt

THOS. M. GREEN, of the Maysville Eagle, has brought suit against Thos. F. Hargis, recently elected Appellate Judge, for libel, for the sum of ten thousand dollars.

How about that out-break in Loyd Illinois, on last Sunday afternoon? Mr. Watterson, please hasten to tender the services of 100,000 one-armed Kentuckians, to assist the helpless suckers to preserve the peace.

COL. W. C. P. BRECKENRIDGE will address the citizens of Butler county at Morgantown, on Monday, June the 30th. Those wishing to enjoy an oratorical treat should not fail to hear this distinguished gentleman.

JOHN G. BARRETT, of Louisville, executor of the estate of the late Sam'l. B. Thomas, has brought suit against Benj. J. Rhot, of Elizabethtown, for $1,000. The suit is for six notes, five of which are for $2,000 each, and one for $1,000, given for a tract of land lying in or near Elizabethtown.

THE PRESS ASSOCIATION of Kentucky held its annual meeting in Bowling Green on last Thursday, Friday and Saturday. We had a right royal time but returned too late to write it up for this issue. Will say something about it next week.

HANES has vetoed again. This time it is the judicial appropriation bill. The sum of $100,000 is appropriated to be used in paying U. S. Marshals for manipulating elections in the interests of their party, as they have been doing here the veto.

HON. JOHN FELAND is a candidate for reelection to the Lower House of the next Legislature from Christian county. While our political views are different from his we still have a high opinion of the honesty, probity and real worth of Mr. Feland and would as soon see him in the Legislature as any Republican can in the State.

DR. MEADOR says in his card of acceptance that he "Would ever be prone to accept of such an endorsement coming indirectly from the masses." Yet, it came so indirectly that it cannot be traced to the masses. The mass convention that nominated the Dr., after a notice being published for weeks in the News, that paper that claims such a mammoth circulation in Ohio County, of the time and place for holding the convention could not muster but 69 votes. That was a tremendous mass convention and the vote in August will be the same way.

THE News came out again last week claiming the largest circulation in Ohio county of any other paper. We proposed a few weeks ago to leave it to the affidavit of the post masters of the county and if the statement of the News was true we would pay the expense and "see 'em up" for the whole crowd. This banter was not noticed. If we were not a member of the church we would make another proposition. Our Devil, however, makes it for us. He (our Devil) says he will let $3.00 to $1.00 on any proposition, that the HERALD has a larger circulation in Ohio county alone than the News ever issued at one time since it began, and leave it to the sworn statement of Alken & Co., Cincinnati, Ohio, who prints the outside of that paper. What do you say, Alex Tyler Cummins.

ANOTHER proof of the fact that the Republican party's love for the Union Soldier is more sham, and their statements that Democrats are hostile to Federal Soldiers is far from true, can be found in the action of the two parties in the State of Ohio. The Republicans nominated for Governor, Chas. Foster, who was at home engaged in manufacturing cheap flags, and took care never to get near enough to the front to smell gunpowder. While the Democrats nominated Gen. Thomas Ewing for Governor, and Gen. A. V. Rice for Lieutenant Governor, both of whom were brave, chivalrous Federal Soldiers, and were at the front fighting as best they knew how, during the darkest days of the country, and were crippled and maimed with confederate bullets. These bloody shirt shriekers are trying to convince people that these brave Federal Generals, who were in the thickest of the fray, are Confederates, and that stay-at-home Charley Foster, was, and is the great friend of the Government and the Union. Who need believe it? Who will be thus deceived?

The Courier-Journal on Senator Conkling.

"It is understood that Mr. Conkling is a man who will fight." — Cincinnati Commercial.

Oh, no, it isn't. He wouldn't fight a house if he thought he would be dead sure thing to it. Everybody knows that who know anything, that he is an unprincipled, ill-bred and ill-mannered braggadocio, sprung originally from the slums. His marriage into a respectable family gave him a start in the world, while his bullying and stage talents have continued his place. He does not even consider himself a gentleman, and he will wear the insult which his offensiveness and vulgarity wrung from Lamar weekly. His private life for several years has been so equivocal that no decent woman can afford to appear in his company. All that he is after is to get some Senator to kick him into martyrdom. Blaine knows him.

A man who would not attend his daughter's wedding because, in marrying an honest and worthy man, she was "marrying beneath her" is generally accounted a bad-hearted fool; but, when that bad-hearted fool has himself sprung from a low origin, the world is in the habit of applying a worse classification.

The affair between Blaine and Conkling was "a lively passage between two gentlemen according to the Republican calendar of the time." The affair between Lamar and Conkling, according to the same reviewers, is "an exhibition of rebel hate."

A man who deserts his wife for another woman, and who makes his desertion disgracefully conspicuous, and glories in his infatuation and his shame, won't fight.

The Prince Surprised by the Savages While in a Field of Long Grass—With a Party of Officers.

LONDON, June 19, 1879.

Reuter's dispatch from Cape Town, June 3, states that Prince Imperial was the body of the Prince of Orange. "There were six bullet wounds in it, but there were seventeen wounds made by assegai thrusts. The body was found stripped. The clothes had been taken away."

SEVENTEEN ASSEGAI THURSTHS. — LONDON, June 19.

A Times correspondent, writing from Italy Hill on the 2nd instant, says: "The body of the Prince Imperial was found in a field of long grass. There were six bullet wounds in it, but there were seventeen wounds made by assegai thrusts. The body was found stripped. The clothes had been taken away."

THE NEW NAPOLEON.—The death of Prince Imperial is a great opportunity to what used to be the Palace Royal Bonapartists to start a new pretender. The fresh claimant for Imperial power is a youth of seventeen and the wife are the Republic to seven. He might be susceptible of being converted into a good ruler and make him a good representative. Success!

HOOG FALLS, June 9th, 1879.

Editor Herald:

The farmers are beginning to prepare for the harvesting of their crops of wheat. Wheat is not as good as the growing crop promised, being very low, as a general thing. There are a few good crops, however. The heads seem to be well filled, and the stalks well filled. Bats will hardly pay for the cutting. They will be less tobacco set than common; some of our best farmers will not set a plant.

HOOG FALLS, June 9th, 1879.

Editor Herald:

Wheat and corn look well in this section. There is some talk of wheat having rust, but not bad.

School election went off very peacefully.

There were several able speeches, for the school election, by Messrs. Robert Waddington, J. Baker and T. C. Waddington. The latter was elected to the tax, and had great influence, as some were made to change their votes by their able discussions.

Miss Lucinda Campbell, of Rosine, has moved to this neighborhood to make her home. Maj. T. J. Barrett's. We congratulate her in finding a home with an estimable family. We guess Buck would like to attend the ferry for the Maj. now.

Mr. Hardin Cappage, sr., who was kicked by a horse some time since, while in Hartford, has about recovered.

C. M. Axton, of this neighborhood, one of the most disastrous fires that ever occurred in this town, was extinguished with their father, in whose presence they are not allowed to speak until addressed by him. The modest assurance of their address is charming in its aids of their rank. In fact, the town may say they go to Savoy, where their mother has a station.

They are sent to amuse themselves with the mountaineers. They are sent to amuse themselves with an equerry, who used to accompany Victor Napoleon in his hunting excursions, and with a couple of gamekeepers.

On Sunday the younger boy who in Paris was sent to school to study, and the town remains all night at the Avenue Montaigne, and is present at intimate receptions which are held weekly there. The conversation is led, of course, by Prince Napoleon, who is a man of rare capacity, and it is intended to open and exert himself to the greatest advantage.

At one time he was the north end of the town was in greater danger of being destroyed by the raging flames, in fact had not been for hard work by the citizens together with a comparatively calm night, the loss in buildings would have been terrible. The dwellings of Mr. Baker, Mr. Baker, Dr. Yost and J. A. Stokes were on fire several times, and it seemed almost certain they would be consumed.

This calamity has cast a gloom over our people, from the fact that it is believed to be the work of an incendiary. No one can imagine a suspicion as to who it is. It has been known of work about 40 or 50 persons whose daily bread was dependent upon the work they did at these houses.

I forgot to say that E. D. Offitt lost 3 hogsheads of tobacco that were prized;

The Case of Judge Hargis.

We publish this morning from a source the thorough responsibility of which we guarantee a plain and complete narrative of the case of Judge Hargis.

We also publish a card from Mr. Green, of Cincinnati, giving into the presses to print from either newspaper or controversy. It is our opinion that, in bringing a libel suit, he has not pursued the best, or even the right, method. To join the issue fully and fairly, he should have indicted Judge Hargis upon the charges he has brought against him, and brought him to trial on his merits.

Perhaps, it will not prove a great matter, because it seems to us that if ever a man established his innocence, he would be vindicated and set himself right, and can, without the least taint upon himself or upon the judicial庭, be can, and will, as I truly believe, be vindicated and set himself right, and will be less put out than at any former period in the history of the country.

The members of our bar held a meeting some days ago, in regard to the Green-Hargis embroilment, at which your humble servant was not present. I am one of those who think Judge Hargis is innocent and has acted well.

has chickens that can stand on the ground and pick corn off the top of the corn. The wheat harvest is about over with us. The yield, I am informed, is unprecedented. The corn crop looks well, and in due condition. Take it altogether the farmer is happy. - Go to King's Stable if you want your horses well fed, he has plenty of good corn and hay and knows how to take care of horses, and gives his special attention to horses left in his care.

- My dear young lady, did you know that the most fashionable hand wear now worn are silk mitts? And did you know that you can get them in all shades, and at all prices, at Anderson's Bazaar?

- Anthony Maden was arrested last week, charged with being one of the burglars who robbed Ferguson's store recently. He gave bond for his appearance at Rosine last Monday, at which time the case was continued over until tomorrow.

- In our mention of the return of students last week, we failed to mention the name of our young friend John B. Hill, who returned the week before from the A. & M. College, much improved in mind and body. Welcome home, John.

- Old uncle James Williams, of Rockport, while carrying a piece of cast iron to his wagon a few days ago, lost his balance and fell, breaking his arm and injuring his side badly. Drs. Layton and Towns were called in and set the fractured bones. The unfortunate old gentleman is doing as well as could be expected.

- Prof. W. G. Benton has been invited to lecture at Beaver Dam, on Wednesday and Thursday of this week. This is certainly a rare chance for that community to hear such lectures. All who hear them are both entertained and instructed.

- Tickets can be had at W. H. Murrell's Drug Store, Beaver Dam.

- The supper at the court house last night was for the benefit of the parsonage, to repair plaster and fit it up. It was well attended, and the ladies deserve great credit for their perseverance in so good a cause.

- L. F. Woerner has just returned from Louisville, where he purchased a large stock of material in his line. He is ready to receive your orders and give you a nice fit out of good material, at low figures. He also has a supply of extra large sizes of gentlemen's shoes, running up to fourteens.

- A grand barbecue will be held at Obed Bennett's Grove, near No Creek church, on Saturday, the 2nd day of August, 1879. The candidates will be present to speak. A good dinner will be set, and refreshments of all kinds will be running on the ground. Police will be present to keep good order, and nothing intoxicating will be allowed to be sold.

LOUIS GUENTHER,
Manager.

- We are up with our work and have carded 274 bunches of wool up to yesterday at noon. Bring on your wool and take your rolls home with you as you return. Every thing is in good running order and you will have to wait but a short time to get your rolls. None but first class rolls are made at the Water Mills. Corn and wheat ground or wool carded at any hour, night or day, if necessary.

JOHN R. & WM. PHIPPS.

It will cost you nothing, and it may save your life.

To Whom It May Concern.

I was not consulted at all in the arranging of the list of appointments for public speaking by the candidates for the Legislature, but will attend if my health permits and will glad to have a full attendance of the voters at each of the appointments. Respectfully, R. P. HOCKEY.

Don't Fail to Read This.

All who owe me a store account or any other account, are required to come up and settle on or before the 10th day of July, after which time I will not run a store account with any body, but propose to do absolutely a cash business. I mean no offense by this requirement, and dislike to make such urgent calls, but my situation is such that I am compelled to. Very respectfully, R. P. ROWE.

To the Public.

I have sold my interest in the Livery Stable of Haden & Field to Mr. Henry Field, and leave him my good will, wishes, &c., and hope the public will give him a liberal patronage, which I richly deserve. W. P. HADEN.

Public Speaking.

The candidates for Representative will speak at the following times and places: Stearns'ville, Saturday, June 28th, 10 a. m.; Monroe, Monday, July 1st, 10 a. m.; Cool Spring, Tuesday, July 1st, 10 a. m.; Rockport, Wednesday, July 2nd, 10 a. m.; Ceredale, Thursday, July 3rd, 10 a. m.; Equality Church, Friday, July 4th, 10 a. m.; Hartford, Monday, July 7th, 10 a. m.; Beaver Dam, Tuesday, July 8th, 10 a. m.; The Strand, Wednesday, July 9th, 10 a. m.; Etina, Saturday, July 12th, 10 a. m.; Fordsville, Monday, July 14th, 10 a. m.; Sulphur Springs, Tuesday, July 15th, 10 a. m.; Rosine, Wednesday, July 16th, 10 a. m.; Horse Branch, Thursday, July 17th, 10 a. m.

Midnight Foe.

During the "wee sma'" hours, when all are wrapped in silent slumber, the insidious subtle foe, unperceived and unsuspected, quietly enters the private sanctuary, attacks the inmates and poisons its poisoned misers into the blood, which paralyzes the nerves, seizes the brain, and a severe chill is the result. This deadly foe must be disarmed, its devastating influences must be counteracted, its effects must be overcome; the stomach must be cleansed and toned, the liver unlocked and the bowels moved. Do this, and chills and fever cannot exist, and we know of but one combination that will accomplish all these results at the same time and that article is Days' Ague Tonic, which never fails to adapt itself to the ladies, who wish pleasant medicine.

SICK HEADACHE.

Two doses of Baileys Saline Apertif will cure the headache. One dose will cure sour stomach or heartburn. A few doses will cure habitual constipation. It will relieve the dyspeptic, it will cool and quiet the stomach, it will unlock the liver, will open the pores of the skin, quiet the nervous, without pain or smarting, and as a purgative, it is unequalled. The candidates are invited to attend and speak. Hon. H. D. McHenry is invited and expected to discuss the political issues of the day.

Bladder and Kidneys.

The Teachers' Institute will commence in the court house in Hartford, Ky., on Tuesday, the 5th day of August, 1879, and continue 4 days, at which every teacher in the county is required by law to attend. Teachers and trustees will take notice and govern themselves accordingly. A. B. BAIRD, C. S. C. JUNE 16th, 1879. 24-tf Ohio County News please copy.

Grand Picnic at Sulphur Springs.

We will have a grand picnic at Sulphur Springs on Saturday, July 5th, 1879. Refreshments of all kinds, music, dancing, croquet playing and other amusements. The candidates are invited to attend and speak. Hon. H. D. McHenry is invited and expected to discuss the political issues of the day.

Temperature.

T. B. Demaree, G. W. C. T., of the Grand Lodge of Kentucky, I. O. O. G., is doing a wonderful work in the temperance field. He organized a lodge Saturday, June 7th, at Vine Grove, Hardin county, with 42 charter members. On Sunday he lectured at Big Springs, and organized a lodge with 45 charter members. On Sunday evening he lectured at Howells Springs, Hardin county, and organized a lodge with 40 charter members - being an addition of 127 in about 24 hours. When the gifted and eloquent Geo. W. Bain resigned, fears were entertained that the order in this State would decrease, but instead, his successor has kept it fully up to the standard in every respect, and to-day, the Grand Lodge of Kentucky is one of the largest and most influential in the world. The Good Templars Advocate, edited by Mr. Demaree, is the best temperance paper of the United States.

Personal Mention.

Judge W. F. Gregory spent several days in Louisville last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Wickliffe, of South Carrollton, are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. King, of the Hartford House.

Mrs. W. H. Griffin, of Elizabethtown, accompanied by her beautiful little daughter, Edna, is visiting relatives at this place.

Mr. John R. Collins, who has been living in Jackson, Tenn., for a year or more past, returned home Monday evening. He will probably remain here.

Clade J. Yager, who received serious injuries from a buggy smash up, near South Carrollton, about two weeks ago, is glad to report, is recovering, and will soon be able to take his place on the HERALD.

Mr. J. W. Ford, who had his arm broken and dislocated while driving a buggy, a week or more since, is recovering, as could be expected, and will, we hope, be able to be out soon.

Dr. J. E. Pendleton, accompanied by his wife, left last Thursday for Crab Orchard Springs. The object of the Doctors visit is to improve his health, which at this time is not good. They will probably take in other points in this and other States before they return.

Mr. John R. Collins, who has been living in Jackson, Tenn., for a year or more past, returned home Monday evening. He will probably remain here.

Anthony Maden was arrested last week, charged with being one of the burglars who robbed Ferguson's store recently. He gave bond for his appearance at Rosine last Monday, at which time the case was continued over until tomorrow.
